HE SAYS NEW YORK HAS NORODY BUT BOSTON TO FEAR,

And Thinks His Team Will Outstace Pitteburgh and Cleveland, and Will Lone Brocktyn-Rusis and Westervatt Late Un--Fours's Men Toy With the Wilken. harres-Opening of the Interscholastic Champtounkip Bonson - Other Cames,

The proposed game at the Polo grounds yesterday between the regular New York team and a nine made up of the extra players under contract was not played for various reasons. Busic had a cold on his lungs and couldn't play. Westervelt was suffering from a lame shoulder and stiff neck, German wasn't feeling well, and Doyle had not returned from Holyoke, Mass. Then, too, the weather was too cold and raw, and Manager Ward thought it best not to take chances. About 300 cranks were turned away from the gates. The players did no outdoor work but sat around the club house spinning yarna. Manager Ward is considerably worried about the present unfavorable weather. With the championship season a little more than a week away, he feels that the team is losing a great deal of valuable practice. But he is so anxious to keep his men in good physical condition that he believes no work at all is more beneficial than hard practice with a chance for lame arms, colds, and other injuries. With a week of warm weather between now and the 19th, Ward has an idea that his men would be fully prepared for the opening battle with Ward, for the first time this season, yesterday consented to discuss his team's rospects. To TAR SUN reporter he said:

After careful deliberation I have come to the conclusion that the New Yorks stand as much chance for the top of the heap just now as any other League team, barring Beston The champions have an advantage over us in that they have been playing together as team for three years past. They have got a system of team play down finer than any ball nine in the country, and if they begin the season in anything like regular form they'll lead at the But New York, Pittsburgh, and Cleveland will be after them. I don't fear Pittsburgh. New York has better pitchers and eatchers, just as good an infield, and a stronger outfield than the Smoky City team. Cleveland is stronger than Pittsburgh, or at least will be Cuppy rounds into form. But at that New York is better fixed in batteries than Tebeau's team and will hit harder in the long run. I don't regard the Philadelphias as at all dan-gerous, and we will simply lose the Brooklyns.

"Now that Farrell has signed I wish to take back what I said about McMahon being a better ball player than Charley. That was merely a bluff on my part. Farrell will have the New fork public by the ears after two weeks' play. He is not only a fine catcher and thrower, but he is of such an easy-going disposition that he will got work out of our pitchers where an-ether man might fail. A pitcher's position in the game is probably more aggravating to him than anything else.

"If semebody makes an error behind him in a close game, or the opposing team succeeds is bunching a few lucky hits, he is liable to become cranky and out of corts. Now, that's just where a catcher like Farrell does a pitcher good. He never loses his head, and is a pitcher at all stages of the game. He cannot fail to put his pitcher in a pleasant frame of mind, and that means everything. Rusfe will pitch better ball with Farrell behind him than ever before just for this very reason."

EROOKLYN, 11; WILKESBARRE, 2.

A little more than a corporal's guard witnessed the game at Eastern Park yesterday afternoon. Those who did see the rame, how-wer, were not sorry that they braved the wet and sleet, for both the Brooklyns and their opponents, the Wilkesbarre Club, played first-slass ball. There are several old-timers among the Wilkesbarre men, and they made the Brooklyns strike a faster game at the start than they had anticipated. In fact, for a few innings the Wilkesbarre boys ded in the run getting. They had made two runs at the beginning of the third inning, while the Brooklyns had not secred at all. The latter team soon overtook the Pennsylvanians, and then held them down to two runs, while Four's men ran the score up a bit.

to two runs, while Foutr's men ran the score up a bit.

The batting was fair, but both pitchers were in trim, and not many hits were made. George sharrott pitched for the Brooklyna. He did much better than in his game against the Murray Hills. The visitors made nine hits off sharrott. The Brooklyns made one hit more off Camfield, the Wilkesbarre twirler. Camfield pitched a very speedy ball at first, but was obliged to slow down before the game proceeded far.

The fielding for such weather was excellent, few errers being made. Warner made his initial appearance behind the bat. He caucht well. Foutz was pleased with his catching, and sald after the game that it was a shame that so good a man was practically idle. The livooklyns, asid Dave, cannot sign Warner, as we already have three good men behind the bat; but he will be a first-class man for any club in need of a backstop. The score: Eighty-sixth street branch of Y. M. C. A., New York city.

Opening of the Interscholastic Baseball Season,

DE LA SALLE, 21; COLUMBIA INSTITUTE, 18. The Interscholastic Athletic Association championship baseball season was opened with the usual accompaniment of school yells, tin horns, and ribbons yesterday afternoon. Owing to the lack of grounds some of the games scheduled had to be called off, and Cutier and Conuled had to be called off, and Cutler and Con-don schools were not yet prepared to put teams into the field. Columbia Ingitute met the boys from De La Salls, however, in a close struggle, in which base hits were numerous and bases on balls monotonously frequent. The game was played on the Columbia Ingit-tute ball field at Neventy-third street and West Endavenue. The De La Balle boys played an almost erroriess game. Columbia Institute was poor at fielding, and they were outbatted. Dillenback for Columbia Institute and Dunu for De La Salle distinguished thamselves, Rain stopped the game in the sighth inning. MARNABD, 9: COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE, 3. Yesterday afternoon the Barnard and Collegiate Institute teams opened the interactions to baseball season at Little Pole Grounds, 118th street and Seventh avenue. The game was devoid of special interest, save Rally's home-run drive over the right field fance in the first inning and Black's catching. Fellows injured his pitching arm and was forced to retire in the first part of the fifth inning. His place was taken by Kelly, Giroy going to short field. The game was called at the end of the fifth inning on account of rain. The score: COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE. BAHNARD.

New Yora, April 22.

With the exception of the Grand National Handicap and one other event, decided in the pigeon shooting tournament at Dexter Park last week, all of the sweepstakes were held under what are known as class rules. Suppose a sweepstakes calls for seven birds to a man. All who make a clean score tie for first piace, those killing six tie for second place, and so on. The idea in class shooting is to encourage the weaker shooters to enter and divide the prize money as equally as possible.
If ties wers to be shot off in every instance the programme would beextended to an unlimited period. As the average shooter wants to be at the traps all the time, the class rules have been found to work quite well. A RACE FOR WESTERN CANDIDATES. Yo Tambien, Citford, and Carlebad Are Wanted.

NASHVILLE, April 10.—The Cumberland Park Club offers to add $5,000 to a race for $1,000 a orner between the Western horses entered in the Brooklyn Handicap, at either one and oneeighth or one and one-quarter miles, weights assigned them in the Brooklyn Handicap, provided that Clifford. Yo Tambien, and Carlsbad start in the race.

The race is to be run any week during the meeting the owners may elect. The offer re-mains open until April 13.

Caldwell Will Probably Start at Lexington James F. Caldwell received an offer yester-Lexington to start at their coming meeting in the latter part of this month. The veteran starter has considered the offer favorably. and, in all probability, will drop the flag at the meeting which begins on April 28.

Starter Caldwell is in excellent health, hav ing passed the winter quietly in the city. He ing passed the winter quiety in the city. He thinks that the meeting of the Saratoga Racing Association this summer will be the greatest ever held there, and states that his only Western engagement will be with the Kentucky Association. He will start at Brighton Beach until July 24, when the Saratoga meeting contains.

Mr. Croker Looks at Bobbins and Prince

Mr. Richard Croker went down to the Graves and race track yesterday to inspect his horses Pobbins, Prince George, and others, which are stabled there, and which are entered for several of the big stake races of the coming season.

He expressed pleasure at the manner in which they had wintered and save that they will be ready for the campaign of 1884. Mr. Groker is fond of Prince George, but Dobbins is his especial pet.

CONRY ISLAND'S ENTRIES. Stakes Filled Very Well with Fifty-two

Nominations for the Saburban. The Coney Island Jockey Club should have a good meeting in 1894, as the stakes which closed on Monday, April 9, were patronized quite liberally. The Suburban Handleap reeeived fifty-two entries, which is rather fewer than in some previous years, but the quality is said to be so high that the race will be beyond doubt a good one.

The June handicaps, a series of three events for three-year-olds and upward, received the popular attention of horsemen and closed with no fewer than eighty entries. The seasoff of 1894 will be a memorable one for two-year-olds, as almost every stake offered for that age by any of the racing associations has filled be-yond expectations. The Spring and June stakes of the Coney Island Jockey Club have each received seventy-six entries; while the Zephyr stakes closed with seventy-eight nominations. The Vernai Stakes, exclusively for two-year-old fillies, closed with seventy-one entries, and the Daisy and Pansy, both to be run over the grass course, received respectively sixty-six and fifty-three entries. The Spindrift Stakes, for three-year-olds, has received forty-nine entries, and the Swift Stakes, for the same age, closed with sixty-two nominations. The contest for the Swift Stakes, at Sheepshead Bay, has been one of the features of the spring meeting, as the best of the spring division meet those of their age that are capable of going a distance, and public form has frequently been turned tepsy turry. The Grass Inaugural Stakes, for three-year-olds and upward to be run over the turf course, has received forty-six entries.

All of the above stakes are to be run during the spring meeting, which begins about the middle of June, but there will be an abundance of sport in the fall, when the Futurity and other valuable prizes will be run off. The Autumn Stakes for two-year-olds, which closed on Monday and which will be decided in the tall, received seventy-five entries: the Flatbush Stakes for two-year-olds, thirfy-one, and the Great Eastern Handleap, also for two-year-olds, forty-five entries.

The Flatbush is at seven furlongs, and has usually brought the best coits and fillies in training to the post, and the result was generally looked upon as a guide to the form one Domino and Dobbins did not start, as they would have to carry a penalty, and Senator Grady won. The Flight Stakes for two-year-olds received twenty entries.

These may be augmented, however, by entries and the September Stakes for three-year-olds received twenty entries.

WALBAUM WILL NOT START HIM. Lamplighter Will Be on Absentee from the

G. Walbaum said yesterday that he would not start Lamplighter in the Brooklyn Haudicap. The horse threw out a splint some time ago, and in view of his many hard races in the East and West last year, it is very doubtful if he is started before the Saratoga meeting, which begins this year on July 24.

Lamplighter has been heavily backed for the Brooklyn Handleap, and his odds, as quoted in Brooklyn Handican, and his odds, as quoted in the future books that are being made on the race, have failen to 12 to 1.

"I made a great mistake, in taking Lamplighter West last fall," said Mr. Walbaum yesterday. "He started in the Brooklyn Handicap last year and was a hot favorite, but Diablo beat him cut. In the Suburban he was made an even-money favorite, but Lowlander made the pace too strong for him and he finished shird. He was raced continually from then on, and when I bought him he had had a severe campaign, and in his match race with Tammany he showed the effects of it."

Walbaum has quite recovered from his recent severe illness and is back at the office of the Saratoga Racing Association in the Kensington Hotel.

BERT WATERS BACK AT NO. 7.

Harvard Shifting Her Crew Again-Their First Row in the Shell. CAMBRIDGE, April 10.-An Important change was made in the Harvard 'varsity crew to-day. Bert Waters, '94, was moved from No. 5 back to No. 7, and Blake, '94, who has been rowing at No. 7, took Waters's old position at No. 5.

The change was the result of the combined judgments of Coach Perkins and Mayor Ban-croft, who has been a diligent follower of the crew throughout the vacation. This is the third time that Waters has been tried at No. 7 since he began to row some three weeks ago. The constant shifting about and alternating of Waters and Blake has apparently been due to Walters's slowness in getting into rowing form. He is theonly man who seems to have the making of the proper person for No. 7, and the coachers are evidently bent on working him into that position.

He is the only man who seems to have the making of the proper verson for No. 7, and the coachers are evidently bent on working him into that position.

The crew resumed their work to-day after an interval of two days' rest, and they marked the beginning of their long apring training by taking to the shell for the first time this year. They were coached in the morning and afternoon by Sancroft and Perkins. A part of the afternoon was spent rowing in the barge, while a photographer took some snap shots of the men unknown to them. These will be developed and magnified to bring out the individual faults of the rowers in the expectation that by actually seeing them the men will be better able to correct themselves. Later in the afternoon the crew again took to the shell, and probably from now on will do all their rowing in it. On tife whole the men kept the boar pretty well on her keel, and in view of the fact that it was the first attempt in the shell, the result was fairly satisfactory.

College opens to-morrow, and the 'varsity and class crews will again begin to row once instead of twice a day.

Another Court Wanted In Queens County, An additional Justice and another court are wanted by the Queens county lawyers to assist in dealing with the business which periodically clogs the Circuit Court in that place. At Island City on Monday more than 200 cases were on the calendar. The lawyers say it is an utter impossibility for one Justice to handle the cases, and a meeting of the Bar Association was held during the day to devise Association was held during the day to devise some method of obtaining relief. Finally, on resolution, President, Walter N. Foster of the association appointed Surrogate A. H. Weller, County Judge Garret J. Garretson, and Benjamin W. Downing a committee to take the necessary steps toward securing an additional Justice and court to help out with the law business. Another court room could be made in the lower part of the Court House by enlarging the Surrogate's office.

H. W. Ogden to Succeed Blanchard in the House. New OBLEANS, April 10 .- Returns from the Democratic primary election in the Fourth Congress district of Louisiana to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of N. W. Blanchard, appointed United States Senator, show that H. W. Ogden has carried the prianow that H. W. Oguen has carried the pri-mary. Mr. Ogden is a native of Missouri, served as Cautain in the Confederate army, and settled in Louisiana in 1985. He was a member of the State Constitutional Conven-tion in 1870, and was afterward Speaker of the House of Representatives. He is in favor of the Wilson bill, the free coinage of silver, the repeal of the 10 per cent. tax on State banks, and the anti-option bill.

Champion Jim Corbett, accompanied by his mother, father, and wife, arrived in town at 4:30 o'clock yesterday morning from Philadelphia. Corbett never looked in better health, He was dressed in a long, black, natty English overcont, white cravat, dark trousers, patent leather shoes, and wore a rather imposing high slik hat. He is stopping at the Vendome, where he was seen a few hours after his arrival by THE SUN reporter. Corbett talked freely about his proposed trip to Europe and future plans. He said that he would leave for England on the Fuerst Bismarck, which sails to-morrow morning, and that he expected to arrive on the other side in time to fill his en-gagement at the Drury Lane Theatre, Lone don, which begins on April 21. Several members of his company salled resterday morning on the Trave. Billy Delaney, Corbett's trainer; Jim McVey, Delaney's assistant: I'rof. John Donaldson, Corbett's sparring partner, and Bobby Gaylor and his wife were also passengers. Delaney said that Corbett would require three months of good training to get into perfect shape for his fight with Jackson. He said that the conditional articles signed by Corbett and Jackson stipulated this.

"Just a few moments before I saw you."
Corbett said to the reporter, "I sent a check for $3,000 to W. J. Davis of Chicago, who is final stakeholder in my match with Jackson. Up to date I have deposited $7,000 of my $10,-000 side wager. Although the money I sent

The reporter admitted that he really did not see, and he asked Kelly about it. The latter said: "I saw Yendig, but not his alleged interest in the club or my $1,000, and, what is more, I don't think I ever will see them. All I got from Vendig was an order for a suit of clothes and his sympathy."
Kelly says he might write to Bowden and Mason, who engineered the big fight. His friends advised him to take legal steps to secure the money. secure the money.

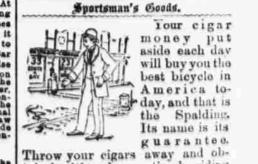

The "Coffee Cooler" Makes Bill Duna Very

Frank Craig. the "Harlem Coffee Cooler." retrieved his lost laurels, which he austained a few years ago, at the hands of Bill Dunn of Bayonne. Dunn is credited with having put Craig to sleep when the two met in three Last night Dunn attempted to stay four rounds with Craig at Miner's Eighth Avenue Theatra. Dunn, however, came to grief in about two minutes.

The "Cooler" made a rush, and with a well-directed blow on the jaw he sent Dunn to the floor. Dunn was knocked down four times after that, and the management rang down the curtain and saved the Jerseyman.
